Wicked Good Food at LTC

By Trip Durham

The food at LTC was supercalifragilisticexpialidocious. The first day started off with a delicious source of protein being eggs. Everyone was also very delighted to receive bacon with their eggs (because everything's better with bacon)! Everyone thought the breakfast was delicious!

Following breakfast was a great of activities ranging from the ropes course to classes, which was followed by lunch at noon. For lunch, we had meatball subs and salad. Much to everyone's surprise, following lunch, we had ice cream sandwiches.

At the end of the day, everyone reflected on the wonderful day they had while munching on chicken, potatoes, bread, corn, and salad. All of the meals were delicious. Everyone should thank the people who prepared these delicious meals!

Insulin In My Bed!?

By Corwin Stauff

Yesterday while cleaning their cabin (after receiving a scalding 5 out of 10 in cleanliness), a member of The Holy Flame Chapter found several insulin lancets underneath their mattress. The discovery was not as shocking as one may think, after all, Lions Camp Pride often hosts a diabetes camp sponsored by the ADA (American Diabetes Association). After some deliberation on how to deal with the medical waste, it was brought to the medical cabin for proper disposal.

If you discover any medical waste in the future, please do not touch, fondle, or play hot potato with it. Instead, report it to a Dad Advisor who will properly dispose of it. Unless of course you fancy getting an infection and likely having to leave LTC.

Learning the Ropes

By Jordan Odess

We had kicked off the fun yesterday with a ropes course. It was really fun and was a great team building activity. It taught us to trust our brothers and that you can also have fun while learning. The course had a few challenging parts, such as the "Platform Challenge." Your whole chapter has to swing to the platform, like Tarzan, and everyone needs to fit on it. The activity showed that as long as you believed in yourself and have your brothers' support, you can really accomplish anything you want, bar none. In total, this was an amazing activity, and hopefully the rest will prove to be better.

Monday in The World of Sports

By Bill Cook

Today in the world of sports our four chapters competed in water polo (LTC style) and kickball. The Knights of LTC pulled out wins in their game of kickball with a score of seven to one. They then went on to succeed in their efforts to overcome the Shielded Brotherhood with two wins in a row.

The DeMoooooolay chapter reigned supreme in their conquest of the shallow water front by winning both games of water polo. They then went to conquer the field in kickball with a win of 13 to 6. That's all for now in the world of sports. Check back tomorrow for more details.

Can You Name This Pony?

There are hundreds of My Little Pony characters, but can you name them all?

The first DeMolay to correctly identify this pony to Dad Haney after breakfast tomorrow will win a free snack during Thursday night's DeMolay Trivia. Are you the "Brony" of your chapter?

Looking For Something?

By Corwin Stauff

We all lose things.

Yes, even you, stop lying, Bob.

For example, I lost my flashlight yesterday.

Usually we misplace something trivial, like a pen, water bottle, or our brain. But every so often we lose track of something more important. If you have lost an item you simply cannot live without, check the lost and found at the staff cabin. I can't promise that you'll find what you're looking for, but it's a good place to start. And if you find a forlorn item that's been abandoned by its owner, bring it to the lost and found. Or, if you see someone forget something, just give it to them.
