Coming to Terms With LTC

By LTC Staff

Today, the DeMolays in the MC Skills Track began working on their term programs. Following the lead of Dad Demoranville, and accompanied by the Jurisdictional Officers, the soon-to-be Master Councilors sat down to build a framework for their upcoming terms. The Term Planning Lab has been a favorite activity for many who have come to LTC and this year, it was clear, that tradition continued.

Dad Demoranville reminded the DeMolays that they should be striving towards accomplishing the goals set forward by the Past Master Councilors Meritorious Service Award. He ex-

Arrowhead "Speeds 2" Victory

By Snuggles II

DeMolay Team Trivia commenced late last night in the Dining Hall. The four quartered contest contained "pop culture" stylized trivia with a DeMolay slant. There were a total of 10 teams engaged in the contest; eight from DeMolay and two from Camp Arrowhead. Beyond the four quarters of four questions each, there were several bonus rounds contained a picture round and a ritual round. Questions that were DeMolay-centric were modified for our friends from Arrowhead and with the assistance, they narrowly pulled out the win. Congrats to all who participated.

Heptathalon Rounds Out the Fun

By Uncle Mo

Yesterday, LTC participated in an Olympic sized event known as the Heptathalon. A series of interesting events centered along items that you might have laying around. The cost of planning something similar at your chapter would be minimal. The chapters competed to see who could finish these events with the highest score. By all accords, a fun time was had by all in attendance. When everyone has fun; everyone wins!!!

Leading Cryptozoologist Arrives To Investigate the “Frogman”

Inspired By Corwin Stauff

With an increase of reports validating the reality of the Lake Merrymeeting “Frogman,” world famous cryptozoologist, Dr. Hunter MacIntosh, has decided to come to LTC to investigate. According to his publicist, his flight to Logan Airport, in Boston, arrives tomorrow at 9am. MacIntosh should find his way to Lions Camp Pride at about 11am.

He gained world renowned acclaim a few years back when proving the existence of the New Hampshire Moo-Man. It is unclear if the Frogman is even real, but with Dr. MacIntosh on the case, it would be utterly ridiculous to think he can't milk out the truth. On the phone, he said that he'd skim the evidence and make a determination afterwards...

plained the steps need to qualify for this distinction and also reminded them of the essential events that needed to be incorporated into a term. The DeMolays then grabbed blank calendars that corresponds to their upcoming terms.

Together with the assistance of the Jurisdictional Officers, the MC Skills participants began the difficult task of building a complete term plan. They penciled in their meeting dates, included Initiatory and DeMolay Degrees, and brainstormed events for all of the obligatory days falling within the time period. The term plans became even more complete as they chose specific fundraising, civic, and fun events to balance out their schedule.

Dad Demoranville inspected each of the term plans, but reminded the DeMolays that a term plan is a living document. It can be strengthened, modified, and adapted throughout a term. Any changes should be thoughtfully explained and communicated to your advisory council, your chapter, and your jurisdictional Awards Director. The terms meeting his strict standards were passed to Dad Gerrish. He scanned each of the terms so that they may be shared with Executive Officers, Chapter Advisors, and the records of LTC. It is the hope of this conference that these terms will be implemented with success at the local levels through the region.

Fi-Daily-Tas Thanks Visiting Reporters

A very special thank you goes to the four DeMolays who made this week's Fi-Daily-Tas possible. Coming from each chapter and reporting the news, these men have made a lasting impression on this conference. Thank you to Jordan Odess, Trip Durham, Corwin Stauff, and Billy Cook. We wish we could add you permanently to the newspaper staff, but you must return to reality soon.
